Announcing Wikidata References on Topics

Today we're excited to announce that Quora is officially using and contributing to Wikidata. Wikidata is a knowledge base run by the Wikimedia Foundation that is collaboratively edited like Wikipedia. Wikidata entities are close analogies to Quora topics both in terms of scope and meaning. The mapping of topics to Wikidata will let us improve the quality of topics by giving us more signals about what the topics are about, letting us be more sophisticated in how we use topics to personalize your Quora experience. Links to Quora topics will be available through the Wikidata entities and also from Quora topic pages to Wikidata entities.
